Message from the Executive Director

The past fiscal year has seen New Jersey's economic situation improve, but not to the degree that other states have. In fact, New Jersey has lagged behind its closest neighbors. The state has continued to suffer from loss of jobs, transit issues, an increasing number of people fell into the lowest income brackets, and the continuing loss of affordable housing. These losses are especially dire for our residents who live with substance abuse addictions, and disabilities, our seniors, and the many who are still recovering from Superstorm Sandy.

Harold B. Garwin

The Community Health Law Project (CHLP) has continued its important role assisting New Jersey's most vulnerable residents. During this past year, we completed the majority of our efforts as a federally certified Navigator under the Affordable Care Act. We reached thousands of people, informing them about health insurance and how to enroll. Staff assisted hundreds of uninsured or under-insured individuals to enroll in the Federal Health Insurance Marketplace or in NJ Family Care, the state's Medicaid program.

Our attorneys and advocates have also provided information, counsel, and representation in a variety of matters to individuals and families still devastated by Sandy. Staff have helped to connect people to state and federal assistance programs, and helped to address housing issues such as tax reductions, mortgage foreclosure settlements, landlord disputes, and litigated matters related to contractor work or contracts.

We have continued our services to help persons living in the community who are receiving home health services including personal care assistance, private duty nursing, and durable medical supplies, and to help resolve issues concerning the amount of care received and continuation of care.

The above-mentioned efforts are only a small part of the overall activities of the CHLP. Over 4,700 persons were served this fiscal year. Staff represented 2,600 individuals in various civil legal matters including public benefits eligibility, family issues, housing, and consumer problems.

Our five regional offices and four satellite offices allow our staff to be accessible throughout the state and to serve our clients in their local area.

We are proud and pleased that the CHLP continues to be a valued, successful, and an important part of the safety net. The Law Project's Board and staff remain dedicated to assuring that the rights and entitlements of New Jersey's residents living with disabilities have a strong voice acting on their behalf.

Sincerely,

HAROLD B. GARWIN
President/Executive Director

To provide legal and advocacy services, training, education, and related activities to persons with disabilities and to organizations representing their interests, with an emphasis on those most vulnerable and needy.

The Year in Review: July 2014 - June 2015

The Community Health Law Project staff have represented our clients in a myriad of civil matters. Some examples of the types of cases that we have been involved in this fiscal year include:

- Superstorm Sandy Representation Update - FEMA has been actively pursuing recoupment of disaster relief funding that it claims recipients were not eligible to receive. About 1,200 debt repayment notices were mailed by FEMA starting in October 2014. Staff has filed appeals of FEMA repayment notices on behalf of several clients, most of whom are elderly or disabled. Other cases being appealed to FEMA involve recoupment of rental housing assistance, storage facility costs and claims for back rent for staying in FEMA temporary housing after the storm. The amounts being contested range from $2,500 to $24,000. Staff has also filed complaints in Superior Court on behalf of clients who were victimized by storm repair contractors, an engineering firm, a power company and new home contractors. Several of these complaints have already resulted in favorable settlements. Staff continues to counsel and represent clients with regard to the State's Superstorm Sandy Disaster Relief programs, especially the Reconstruction, Rehabilitation, Elevation and Mitigation (RREM) program. Additionally, staff has developed expertise in appealing tax assessments for owners of Sandy damaged properties and has successfully appealed assessments in Monmouth and Bergen Counties.
- Client came to CHLP after being served with an overpayment notice from the State of NJ. Client is 84 years old and owns a home that can be used as a 2 family home but has always been used as a single family home. In 2014, the state learned the house that the client owned for 34 years was classified as a 2 family home. Thereafter, the state demanded the client repay 50% of her Property Tax Reimbursement and Homestead Rebates back to 2010 - the furthest back the state could claim. The demand was for over $8,000. The state's theory was that client was only entitled to 50% of her rebates since an individual can only have one primary residence instead of two and therefore client was not entitled to make a refund claim on 100% of the property taxes she paid. CHLP filed a State Tax Complaint challenging the overpayment. CHLP sought assistance from city officials to develop documentary evidence and bolster the argument that the house in question is functionally a single family home. The state ultimately reversed its decision, cleared the overpayment and changed the state records to reflect that the client occupies a single family home and is entitled to 100% of any future property tax refunds or rebates.
- Ms. Q, age 57, suffers from post-traumatic stress disorder and bi-polar disorder, and lives with her four children. The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs (DCA) terminated Ms. Q's Section 8 housing voucher, alleging that she intentionally failed to report a $29,000 lump sum child support payment. Due to Ms. Q's extremely limited English proficiency and her disability, she did not immediately notify the Section 8 office of this payment. CHLP requested a hearing at the Office of Administrative Law (OAL). We made several arguments, including that the lump sum child support payment was sporadic, and non recurring and thus not "income", and that a reasonable accommodation based on Ms. Q's mental illness prevented her from strictly following the complex regulations that govern the Section 8 program. DCA offered to settle the case by reinstating Ms. Q's Section 8 voucher. As a result, a client struggling with mental illness and homelessness is now on the road to being reunited with her four children in a new home.
- Private duty nursing services had been provided to client for a period and then were terminated by his health care insurer. Client has a continued need for skilled nursing care due to his significant developmental delays, cognitive impairment, hypotonia, and he is non-verbal and non-ambulatory. He required constant monitoring of oxygen saturation levels and repositioning the body at night. Skilled nurses also provide medications and treatments for ulcerative colitis and immune disorder. CHLP filed a Stage 2 appeal which was denied within about one day. CHLP requested a fair hearing. CHLP requested an independent appeal and evaluation through the New Jersey Department of Banking and Insurance. The reviewing agency, Permedion, made a decision to overturn the decision, ordering that private duty nursing services continue at the same rate.
- CHLP health navigator met a 70 year old Spanish speaking woman at a health fair. She recently married and due to her new husband's income, her SSI benefits were terminated. She attempted to apply for NJ Family Care/Medicaid but was turned away by the county social services office, erroneously telling her that she did not qualify. Staff met with her, explained the application process, and successfully enrolled her in expanded Medicaid under the ACA.

Christopher C. Botta, Esq., Mayor, Borough of Ramsey

Vicky DeRosa, Founder & CEO, V Well Health

Rev. Robert F. Kaeding, Executive Director & Founder, The Center in Asbury Park, Inc.

MWW, Public Relations/Public Affairs

Krystal L. Odell, Director of Supportive Services, Pennrose Management Company; President/CEO, PennReach

James Weisman, Esq., SVP & General Counsel, United Spinal Association, was presented with The Mike Lione Accessibility Award, given in memory of our former Chair and long-time Board member, in recognition of Mike's significant efforts on behalf of people living with disabilities.

The event was attended by 157 individuals with major support from Verizon; Columbia Bank; Johnson & Johnson Law Department; Trenk, DiPasquale, Della Fera & Sodono, P.C.; Employers Association of New Jersey; Gibbons P.C.; McCarter & English, LLP; Mutual of America; Karen & Ken Rosen; and Starr, Gern, Davison & Rubin, P.C..

Christopher Botta serves as the president of Ramsey Housing, Inc. (RHI), a nonprofit corporation created and formed to oversee the development and construction of special needs housing for young adults with autism. RHI has constructed and currently manages a special needs housing residence in the Borough of Ramsey called "Airmount Woods," which provides independent living for young adults with Autism Spectrum Disorders. It is the first residence of its kind in the State of New Jersey, and a model for future development throughout the state and country.

Vicky DeRosa lost most of her eyesight to a rare disease that causes abrupt and permanent blindness, and was diagnosed to become completely blind. She set her own course for recovery through faith and healthy living. In a development that confounded doctors, she regained much of her sight and it continues to improve today. She partnered with her son to morph her health and fitness studio into an "online health club" with the goal of making it easy and affordable for absolutely anyone, anywhere, to live a healthy lifestyle.

In 1992, Father Bob founded The Center in Asbury Park to serve people living with HIV/AIDS in Monmouth and Ocean Counties. Today, The Center is comprised of the headquarters and Center House which has 25 studio apartments for formerly homeless single women and men who are living with HIV/AIDS. Since the new complex opened in 2006, more than 70 individuals have lived there—all of whom were homeless before they moved in. Over 75 volunteers assist in The Center's daily efforts. Father Bob and The Center are a vital part of the Asbury Park community.

In 1986, MWW was founded in NJ with one employee and representing just one client. Today, MWW is a leading full-service public relations/public affairs firm with more than 250 communications professionals collaborating across offices in US and UK. MWW provides staff with a platform for individuals to volunteer time and support. This is in addition to the pro bono and discounted services that MWW performs as a company for charitable interests. The company's "Good Matters" program, where all MWW employees receive up to 8 hours of paid time off per year to participate in community service activities of their choice, underscores MWW's long-standing commitment to giving back to the community. MWW also provides company-sponsored programs.

Krystal Odell is the Director of Supportive Services for Pennrose Management Company, one of the foremost developers of affordable housing in the Northeast and President/CEO of PennReach, a nonprofit serving the needs of families, seniors and special needs residents of low income housing. She has been an advocate in the field of disability services in NJ for the last 30 years. Her experience of being the sibling of a person with a disability has fueled her passion for providing the best quality services for people with special needs.

Betty Redman is the founder and manager of the Collaborative Support Programs of New Jersey (CSPNJ) Learning and Recovery Center (LRC), which is a peer-run self-help center that has become a significant service provider and voice for a diverse group of individuals who have experienced living with mental illness, homelessness and substance abuse. Through Betty's efforts and leadership, the LRC has become a strong advocacy voice for those living with disabilities within Cape May County. Because of her nursing skills, Betty has become a leading advocate for recovery and wellness initiatives throughout the state.

For 35 years, James Weisman has advocated for the rights of people with disabilities including helping craft the landmark Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA). He is a founding member of the Board of Directors of the American Association of People with Disabilities (AAPD) and was appointed to the Architectural and Transportation Barriers Compliance Board (Access Board) by President Bill Clinton. He has brought several suits that have resulted in major settlements: creating curb cuts for wheelchair users, an accessible bus network, paratransit van service and elevators that make subway stations accessible. Jim certainly embodies the actions and ideals of the Mike Lione Award. We are pleased to present him this award for his leadership and significant accomplishments in assuring accessibility for persons with disabilities.

CHLP's Programs and Services

The essential mission of the Community Health Law Project is to provide legal and advocacy services to New Jersey residents with disabilities. We serve consumers of mental health services, people with physical disabilities, HIV/AIDS, developmental disabilities, and visual impairments. Our attorneys and advocates represent clients in matters involving Social Security benefits, welfare, food stamps, and other entitlements; housing habitability and landlord/tenant disputes; foreclosure defense; consumer protection and debt collection; child support, and domestic violence; Medicaid, Medicare, and other health insurance issues; civil rights; and barrier-free accessibility. In FY2015 (July 1, 2014 to June 30, 2015), CHLP represented 4,787 clients. An example of how the Law Project's direct services adjusts to the needs of our clients is the effect of Superstorm Sandy on people living with disabilities.

In Monmouth, Ocean, Atlantic and Cape May Counties, our regional offices addressed new problems that many of our clients faced from the storm's devastation. With funding from federal and state contracts, the Law Project staff assisted clients who had lost their medication, their apartments, their homes, and in some cases, all of their possessions. Staff assisted in helping clients relocate to emergency housing and represented them in seeking a return of their security deposits. Staff initiated actions to have rental assistance vouchers transferred to new housing and after their former housing was rehabilitated, to have the landlords continue to rent to our clients, and resolved issues with building contractors and architects.

Beyond these simple but important issues, many more complicated events unfolded. As the federal and state governments entered the arena to provide assistance, many of our clients were caught in the web of FEMA and DCA applications and appeals. This event further heightened the difficulties of persons living with disabilities to live in our communities, but with a yeoman's effort, the Law Project staff has been extremely successful in advocating on behalf of our clients during this special circumstance.

In addition to the examples of services described above, CHLP operates several unique programs:

To Your Health. The program concentrates on two important issues facing our clients: providing assistance to individuals with mental health and co-occurring addictions to enroll under the Affordable Care Act in the new Medicaid Expansion Program and the Healthcare Marketplace. For other clients, we have assisted and represented individuals receiving home health care who have had their health care services denied, terminated or reduced by the health care insurance carrier.

Student Internship Program. Since 1988, CHLP has been holding its annual Ann Klein Advocate Awards, the proceeds of which support its student internship program. Using these funds, as well as funding from Legal Services of New Jersey, CHLP has been able to hire several law students and graduate students every year to work in its branch offices on direct legal services, and its South Orange office on civil rights cases. In so doing, it helps to train and inspire the next generation of disabilities advocates and attorneys.

Civil Rights and ADA Litigation. For many years the CHLP has been a leading voice and advocate for clients in Fair Housing and Americans with Disabilities litigation. Staff continue to assist clients in asserting their rights and seeking accommodations.

Training and Workshops. CHLP offers a wide range of workshops for consumers and professionals. With the support of the New Jersey State Bar Foundation, it presents an annual Law & Disability Issues Conference at the New Jersey Law Center in New Brunswick every spring. Subjects range from civil rights cases to health care issues to new laws affecting people in institutional settings. CHLP staff is always ready to speak on the entire range of legal topics that affect the organization's clients. Staff also offer interactive workshops on the civil rights of persons with disabilities and on health care issues.

Public Policy Advocacy. CHLP staff has continued to address system-wide issues that affect our clients in a number of ways. For example, we participated in statewide coalitions such as the New Jersey Anti-Poverty Network and the Affordable Housing Network and various county professional advisory committees to local mental health planning boards. We took active roles in the government affairs committees and activities of statewide organizations such as Disability Rights New Jersey, the Mental Health Association in New Jersey, Arc of New Jersey, and New Jersey Association of Mental Health and Addiction Agencies. Our direct service staff attorneys and advocates participated in numerous local advisory boards and task forces around the state addressing issues such as homelessness, mental illness, developmental disabilities, Social Security, HIV/AIDS services, prisoner reentry and human services. In addition, our attorneys and advocates provided community education and training around the state on a variety of topics of concern to people with disabilities. An example of this effort is our South Jersey office attending monthly meetings with the public policy sub-committee of the Mental Health Association of Southwestern New Jersey's Board working on getting the Camden County Board of Social Services to be more responsive and sensitive to the needs of mental health consumers and improving access to their services; and providing training to boarding home/residential health care facility operators and residential services providers on Social Security issues.

Fee-for-Service Program. The CHLP has initiated a Fee-for-Service (FFS) representation program for individuals with disabilities whose income exceeds CHLP's income guidelines to obtain free legal representation or for those individuals with disabilities for whom CHLP has no funding to provide free legal representation. Under the FFS program, CHLP bills its legal services on a sliding scale, from $125 to $175 per hour, depending on the client's income. Legal services are provided in such areas as special education, social security, special needs trusts, health insurer's denial of coverage or services, guardianships, expungements, name changes, wills, living wills, powers of attorney, fair housing and ADA issues, and certain other civil law matters.
